

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Visitation Group #2 will meet tonight with Jack & Cindy Hall.

On the Lighter Side

13-year-old Dewey spent a beautiful Saturday and Sunday indoors playing video games.

His older sister tried coaxing him outside by warning, "Someday, you're going to be 30 years old, single, and living in Mom's basement playing video games all day!"

His reply: "I can only dream."

UH-OH!

A man in a hurry, taking his 8-year-old son to school, made a turn at a red light where it was prohibited.

"Uh-oh, I just made an illegal turn!" the man said.

"Aw, Dad, it's probably okay," the son said. "The police car right behind us just did the same thing."

Our Ill and Shut-ins

Carl Bean has been told that surgery is the only treatment that is available now.

Bill Leonard is also having back problems.

Please review the names on our prayer list (on the other side of this sheet) and keep them all in your prayers.

Thoughts for the day ...

- Do not trust atoms. They make up everything.
- I just did a week's worth of cardio after walking into a spider web.
- I don't mean to brag, but I finished my 14-day diet food in 3 hours and 20 minutes.
- I ate a salad for lunch today! Well, mostly croutons and tomatoes. Actually one big round crouton and tomato sauce. And cheese. FINE! It was a pizza. I ate a pizza for lunch!

Property Acquired—Not for Sale!

Some time ago a minister in California announced that he would speak the next Sunday over the radio on Heaven. During that week, the minister received the following letter from an old man who was very ill.

"Next Sunday you are to talk about Heaven. I am interested in that land, because I have held a clear title to a bit of property there for over 55 years. I did not buy it. It was given to me without money and without price. But the donor purchased it for me at a tremendous sacrifice. I am not holding it for speculation, since the title is not transferable. It is not a vacant lot. For more than half a century I have been sending material out of which the greatest architect and builder of the universe has been building a home for me, which will never need to be repaired because it will suit me perfectly, individually, and will never grow old. Termites can never undermine its foundations for they rest upon the Rock of Ages. Fire cannot destroy it. Floods Cannot wash it away. No locks or bolts will ever be placed upon its doors, for no vicious person can ever enter that land where my dwelling stands, now almost completed and almost ready for me to enter and abide in peace, eternally, without fear of being rejected. There is a valley of deep shadows, between the place where I live now and that to which I shall journey in a very short time. I cannot reach my home in that City of God without passing through that dark valley of shadows. But I am not afraid, because the best friend that I ever had went through the same valley long, long ago and drove away all its gloom. He has stuck by me through thick and thin since we first became acquainted 55 years ago, and I hold His promise in printed form, never to forsake nor to leave me alone. He will be with me as I walk through the valley of the shadows, and I shall not lose my way when He is with me. I hope to hear your sermon on Heaven next Sunday from my home in Los Angeles, but I have no reassurance that I shall be able to do so. My ticket to heaven has no date marked for the journey—no return coupon and no baggage permit. Yes, I am ready to go and I may not be here while you are talking next Sunday, but I shall meet you there some day."

Self-Control

An Old Chinese proverb goes like this: "If you are patient in one moment of anger, you will escape a hundred days of sorrow." I'm not sure about the number of days, but the basic idea is certainly true.

Any of these sound familiar? "I wish I hadn't said what I did." "I would give anything if I had kept my mouth shut." "I wish I could take it back." Most of us have been forced to use one or more of these, or similar, expressions.

What about the determination to keep ourselves under control? Some brag that they speak their mind. Those who have to hear them know that is not a good thing.

The rest of us need, in calmer moments, to resolve that we will speak with poise, even when provoked. Each of us needs to say, "I am determined, with God's help, not to let anyone make me angry enough to lose control of my temper. When we lose control, we lose. Remember the words of Proverbs 16:32, "He who is slow to anger is better than the mighty, and he who rules his spirit than he who takes a city."
