The Family

Our Ill and Shut-ins

E. G. Sanders fell in his home and broke five ribs (7 fractures) and a pierced lung. He has developed an infection and doctors are monitoring his heart. He is not receiving visitors at this time.

Mary Helen Flowers has kidney failure and is receiving Hospice care at Moore Assisted Living.

Carl Bean is scheduled to see a pain management doctor on March 9th.

Joe Usrey, former member here, is recovering from a bad automobile accident. He is now in the therapy wing at the Heart Hospital.

Good news! The specialists in Dallas do not think the lump on the foot of Lilli Delapena (granddaughter of the Warrens) is cancerous! They will watch it for three months.

Please review the names on our prayer list (on the other side of this sheet) and keep them all in your prayers.

Paul's Test for What's On Your Mind

In Philippians, Paul gave us a litmus test, so to speak, for what should be on or in our minds. "Finally, brethren, whatever things are true, whatever things are noble, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there is any virtue and if there is anything praiseworthy—meditate on these things" (Philippians 4:8). My question is: "If I am to focus my mind on these things, can I practice or support anything that wouldn't make this list?" I believe we know the answer to this.

"Whatever things are true..." equals honesty. "Things noble..." equals integrity. "Just" equals fair and righteous. "Things pure" equals holy and unblemished. "Things lovely" equals opposite of the ugliness we find in worldliness. "Good report" equals good reputation, above reproach. "Virtue" equals obvious goodness. "Anything praiseworthy" equals anything that supports godliness and morality, ethics, etc.

Now, things in your life or on your mind that you can't plug into that equation of goodness or formula for holiness are to be abandoned.

Another "test" an old preacher taught me was, "If you can't thank God, in prayer, for whatever you say or do, don't do it." If you would be ashamed to pray to God for His endorsement or support of an activity or event, probably you should leave it alone.

My mother, concerning dating, always told me, "If you would not want to bring this person to meet me, leave her where you found her." I think that principle is the same as what we are talking about here.

I challenge us all to think about our lives and the way we are living. Inventory what we are doing and supporting. Paul tells us what to do while we are doing so: "Test all things; hold fast what is good" (1 Thessalonians 5:21). It's not hard to do, it just takes a willingness to do it. That is hard for all of us at times.

Small Congregations: Weak or Strong?

In the August 2016 issue of Gospel Advocate, did you read Eric Welch's article titled "The Strength of Small Churches"?

One of the misconceptions mentioned was that small congregations have something wrong with them or they would be larger. Wrong. There are numerous reasons small congregations remain small.

God showed the strength of small numbers through Gideon's victory with God on his side. This shows the more vulnerable that people feel, the more they need God and obedience to His word.

Other strengths include the close fellowship, "one another" encouragement and helping one another. It is very important that small congregations use the strength of each member being involved. Small congregations can be very much like a family.

How visitors are greeted and treated is a very helpful attraction. Paul wrote in Romans 12:9, "Let love be genuine." People recognize quickly the honest joy that can be shown by greeting and a worship service that is true to God.

The desire to "grow at any cost" is a dangerous goal. God has always wanted His people to be true to the word and offer themselves to the teaching of His word.

First Corinthians 3:6,7: "Let us plant and water and then trust God to give the increase."
